

Help Students Start Their Research While Building Information Literacy Skills

Develop Research Skills. Student-friendly research tutorials empower learners to explore curated multisubject materials.

Make Cross-Curricular Connections. Facilitate guided search, resource evaluation, and critical thinking with interactive Mind Maps, federated search, and intuitive filtering options.

Ignite Curiosity. Discover high-quality resources to propel “presearch” and support vital presentation skills.

Check out our library’s website or contact a librarian for the link to Credo Source.

If prompted to log in, please input the following login details:

Username:

Password:

Spark Research With Credo Source

Empower students with the research assets needed to drive independent learning and ignite curiosity.

- 1 Encourage student choice with resources across subjects and interests
- 2 Connect ideas and topics with Credo's Mind Map
- 3 Foster student mastery and ownership with Research Skill Builders
- 4 Reinforce presentation skills with texts and visuals

The screenshot displays the Credo Source search results for 'Human brain'. A sidebar on the left contains navigation options: Topics, Titles, Mind Map, Research Skill Builders, Translate, Access Provided by Your Institution, and Library Links. The main content area shows a search result for 'Human brain' from Black's Medical Dictionary, 43rd Edition. It includes an anatomical image of the brain, a text snippet, and a 'Mind Map' diagram with 'Human brain' at the center, connected to related terms like Cerebellum, Neuron, Cerebrum, Nervous system, Frontal lobe, Neuroanatomy, Central nervous system, Lateralization of brain f..., and Brain. Below the text is a 'Read More' link and an 'EXPLORE RELATED CONCEPTS' section with a grid of image thumbnails. A 'Load More' button is visible at the bottom of the image grid. The footer contains the Infobase logo and navigation links: HELP, CONTACT US, PRIVACY POLICY, TERMS OF USE, MORE INFOBASE RESOURCES, and ADMIN PORTAL.

Check out our library's website or contact a librarian for the link to Credo Source.

If prompted to log in, please input the following login details:

Username:

Password: